

The best two ways to avoid a DUI are to either not drink or not drive. So let someone else do the driving.

If you've read our lesson entitled "DUI – A Costly Mistake", then you know how just how financially painful a DUI can be. Clearly, you should avoid a DUI at all costs! Consider how much cheaper and safer it is to take a taxi, bus, or heck, even a limo.

By now you realize that you could take a dozen limousine rides and not spend nearly as much as a single DUI.

Let DrinkingAndDriving.Org show you how to use alternative transportation to get home safely.

Our mission is to promote DUI prevention through education and to provide easy access to DUI-related services.

Says Get a Ride!

Phone Tips

- Many phones these days have GPS mapping with voice. If your phone has this feature, learn how to use it to find your way home.
- Put a couple of contacts in your cell phone for local taxis. Make the first character of the contact names a SPACE “ ” so it will appear first in your contact list.

Taxi Tips

- Write your address down on a piece of paper and put it in your pocket. You can hand it to the Taxi driver who takes you home.

- Be nice to your taxi driver. Your driver may be saving your life.

Public Transportation Tips

- Before you go out
 - * Plan your route home BEFORE you go out. Write it down and put it in your pocket.
 - * Have whatever change, tokens, passcards, or money you need counted out and keep it in the same pocket.
 - * Don't put anything else in that pocket. That's your "Going Home Pocket".
- When you're ready to go home
 - * Remember that you made a plan and stick to it.
 - * Use your Going Home Pocket
 - * Try to read every transportation sign (ie, platform numbers, station names, street names) THREE times and check it against your planned route.

Limousine Tips

- Plan the evening's events with the driver beforehand. Make the plan and stick to the plan.
- Once you are drunk in the limo, just remember...
 - * Keep the windows closed
 - * Don't stand up through the sunroof
 - * Don't distract your driver

In ALL cases

Thank anyone who helps get you home. They may have saved you thousands of dollars, or maybe even your life.
